NO WINS VS TOP TEN RANKED TEAM

The Michigan State game was a huge disappointment for me and I am sure many Husker fans. The Offensive line and running game were flat and that may be stating it nicely. I think the Heisman hopes for Ameer are over. Unless those in front of him do not get a clue in how to properly conduct themselves and stop breaking athletic codes and laws.

The thing that disappoints me the most is Nebraska does not seem to compete vs the top teams. Yes, they did not get blown out and they really stayed in there and fought and actually had a chance at the end. But three quarters of futility was too much to overcome. I did think the Defense played well enough for most of the game to get the Huskers a win. They had a couple of breakdowns but were at least respectable. So now what...

Well there are challenges on the Horizon. One is this weekend. Until the Wildcats beat Wisconsin I do not think anybody thought they were capable of winning 3 Big 10 games. Plus past history says this should be a barn burner. Get out the heart pills as I think this will play out like the last three games close to the end and who ever has the ball last wins. The good thing is if the Huskers win out, then a Big10 title game vs Ohio State or Michigan State will be in order. But there is a long way to go....

Husker Game Notes

The Wildcats have made it tough on Husker fans hearts since joining the BIG 10. Northwestern actually defeated #9 Nebraska at Memorial Stadium, plus they were leading late in the fourth quarter of the other two games. A total of 1 point separates these two teams when you add up the last three scores. Look for much the same. Huskers O line better have their heads screwed on straight or it could be over for the Huskers and the Cat!

Below you will find some links to help you prepare for the game. See you at Holidays!

Brook Berringer Tribute

Brook Berringer a Son
a Leader, a Teammate,
a Champion,
a Nebraska Cornhusker Forever.

This Saturday after the Nebraska Northwestern Game, The Big 10 network will air the Brook Berringer story

"Unbeaten:
The Life of Brook Berringer."

Brook Berringers story is one of tragedy and triumph. Brooks perseverance and mothers spirit helped make Brook the man he was. Brooks life all though short is still remembered by many. Brook was a friend to nearly everyone he met.

Including the members of the Sawyer Brown Band. Click on the link below to listen to a song written specifically for Brook. Sawyer Brown played this song for Brook over the phone just days before the plane accident that took his life. Brook was a friend to Sawyer Brown and they played this song many times to Honor the fallen hero, their friend. The audio is poor but turn it up and have a listen.
