SAME OLD SONG.....NEW "RECORD"NUMBER.

I am starting to feel like a broken record. It seems all I have talked about is Ameer. Well, how can you not. The single greatest all purpose yardage producer in Nebraska history. Fear Ameer!

Lets play a little numbers game. On 9/20, 2 teams tied at 5 series wins each with 10 National Titles played before 91,585 fans. (new record) All watched number 8 run over the number 8 defensive team in the country. He rushed 35 times for 229 yards and amassed 313 ap yards (2nd most in single game)and score 3 TD's. Number 8 ended the night with 5,762 ap yards to break number 20's, 5,586 yard mark. Number 4 was 9 of 13 for 113 yards with 40 coming on 1 catch by #80. Number 8 and 4 had 10 runs of 10yards or more while gaining 456 yards. The 11 men on the Defensive side at times played like a tough physical defense. 2 big sacks for a negative 25 yards plus 3 turnovers 1 of which number 5 ran back 57 yards for 6. Miami went 5 for 5 on scoring in the red zone, which was disappointing. The 3 scrums and 151 yards in combined penalties showed the frustration and in a case or two, passion these 2 teams had. But perhaps it was the 3rd quarter when the Huskers 24 snaps of which 20 being runs, 10 in a row that tipped Miami over the edge in what ended up a 41-31 win for the Huskers. While the game at times was close it was also not as close as the 10 points might suggest. For me being an old timer on this the 20th anniversary of the 1994 national champions I truly enjoyed the win which put the Huskers at 4-0 and a #19 ranking as they head into their BIG 10 opener. See ya Saturday.

#19 Nebraska Cornhuskers (4-0)

VS

Illinois Fighting Illini (3-1)

Josh Mitchell, Fumble Recovery,
 57 yards and 6 points!

There were some glimpses of what this defense could be and there were some glimpses of what they often seem to be. Lets hope they are better this week from start to finish.

Last week I told you a sob story about me not being able to watch Nebraska play due to a wedding. Guess what.... The game was on! Needless to say I did not do much dancing but I did manage to get into some banter with some Miami "stink of U" fans at the wedding. I was playing nice until the "U" started throwing punches and was not flagged! I called him a cheap shot and typical Miami thug, then got a face full of Miami fan giving me the Big Red hate face and called the Huskers pretenders. Game on! Some Badger fans decided to jump in and let him have it as well. Needless to say the bride nor groom had any sense there was a football frenzy about to break out. So we turn the page with a smile on our big red faces and hope the Illini do present that trap game that some teams seem to get caught in. The Huskers lead this series 8-2-1. This will only be the third time that the Huskers have been ranked when playing Illinois. The last three games have resulted in a 92 point differential. I think the Huskers will roll up some points but will probably also give up some.

I say 42-23. Lets hope it bigger than that!

FVH Watch Party News.

22 FVH members were in attendance last week.

We bid farewell to Greg & Elicia Laabs, 2012 4-to-Play winners. Greg has a new job in Lincoln. What an ideal place to move! They depart this week for Nebraska. Elicia won a $20 gift card from Holiday's during our half-time drawing. Greg won the half-time football pool amount of $23.

We welcome two new FVH members,
Dan & Cami Bratz.

THANKS!

FVH would like to thank Holidays for their generous donation towards our halftime giveaways. Jeff has donated gift cards to be given away each week to one Lucky Husker
